- Currently no parents or family members are allowed in the building during class or camp.
- Outside and interior doors will be open as weather permits to allow for air circulation.

- Three studios. Three entrances. Students scheduled for classes or camp in Studio A will enter through the Twirl office door, students in Studio B classes will enter through the main lobby (the door all the way to the right), and students dancing in the Twirl Annex will enter through the Annex lobby door. Camp families will get information as to which entrance to use a week prior to the camp.
- Currently no parents or family members will be allowed in the lobby during class. Please take this into consideration when it comes to separation anxiety and your child.
- For pickup, students will be released to whoever is picking them up at the door.
